Goji Berries

Item #894

USES: These dried berries are wonderful to eat on their own – or perfect as an addition to trail mixes. These berries have increased in sales dramatically due to recommendations from Dr. Oz, Oprah and other well known health celebrities.

Dulse Flakes, Organic

Item #2520

INTERESTING INFO: Dulse is harvested from the Atlantic coastal regions of the United States, and sun-dried on nets laid out in “drying fields.” Drying fields are pastures covered with stones. The nets rest upon the stones providing a drying surface where air can circulate freely. The pastures, are carefully hand weeded, and cleared of debris between drying cycles.

NUTRITIONAL INFO: As for its nutritional content, Dulse contains vitamins B6 and B12, as well as iron, potassium and fluoride. Unlike other seaweeds, it is relatively low in sodium.

Spirulina, Organic

Item #2701

INTERESTING INFO: Spirulina, a microscopic plant, is nature’s most powerful “green” food. With over 60% protein content, Spirulina is one of the highest and most digestible protein sources known.

SOURCING: Our organic Spirulina is cultivated in manmade ponds, located on a 120 acre facility in the little town of Oonaiyur, India. The temperature in this particular location - averages approximately 34 degrees Celsius in summer and 24 degrees in winter – making it ideal for the cultivation of Spirulina.
