Frontier's Sustainable Botanical Sourcing Program

Well Earth Program

Our Well Earth™ sourcing program supports suppliers committed to excelling in five critical areas: worker safety & fair treatment, sustainable production practices, environmental impact, social & community impact and product safety and quality. An example of the benefits of the Well Earth™ program can be seen in Bangalore, India, where we source our Fair Trade Certified™ organic vanilla extracts and beans. The premium paid for this high-grade product supports a small co-op of farmers and provides jobs for women that pay three times the average wage. Proceeds are also used to support a program that feeds one million children each day during the school year.

Simply healthy living.
Simply great taste.

In an industry where "organic" labels are often just an extension of a larger, non-organic enterprise, Simply Organic offers healthy, wholesome, organic products you can trust. But Simply Organic offers more than just pure products. Our vision of an organic lifestyle means we are committed to integrity, from the field to the shelf. We appreciate that some of the best things are those that have been around for a long time, and as a result we support and encourage the growth of organic farming practices and support traditional farms and growers.

Try any of our spices, seasoning mixes, baking flavors and baking mixes and we think you'll agree ... Simply Organic provides a simple way to go organic this holiday season.
