

notes from the field

Location: outside Fez, Morocco

Product Sourced: Rosemary essential oil

The Story: We made the trek from Fez, going east to a family distillation operation of over 70 years. Immediately, we could tell this farmer has a passion for his work. He knew if the rosemary was ready for harvest by touch – feeling the cineole content with his fingers. The rosemary is grown in a mountainous area about 5000 ft above sea level and the bushes are harvested by hand and scythe. Careful detail to wildcrafting regulations will ensure the crop's success and the farmers' prosperity for years to come.

Part of our Well Earth sourcing program.

www.frontiercoop.com/wellearth

